REPORT OF INDEPENDENT AUDITORS

Board of Trustees
Centre College of Kentucky
Danville, Kentucky

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial position of Centre College of Kentucky (the "College") as of June 30, 2010 and 2009, and the related statements of activities and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the College's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Centre College of Kentucky, as of June 30, 2010 and 2009, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
June 30, 2010 and 2009

NOTE 1 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Nature of Organization: Centre College of Kentucky (the “College”) is an independent, selective educational community dedicated solely to liberal studies in the arts and sciences as the means to develop the intellectual, personal, and moral potential of its students. The College is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools and is located in Danville, Kentucky.

Basis of Presentation: The financial statements of the College have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Accordingly, net assets have been grouped into the following three categories:

Unrestricted Net Assets - Net assets that are not subject to donor-imposed stipulations. Unrestricted net assets may be designated for specific purposes by action of the Board of Trustees.

Temporarily Restricted Net Assets - Net assets whose use by the College is subject to donor-imposed stipulations that can be fulfilled by actions of the College pursuant to those stipulations or that expire by the passage of time.

Permanently Restricted Net Assets - Net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations that neither expire by the passage of time nor can be fulfilled or otherwise removed by the College.

The College follows the policy of reporting donor-imposed restricted contributions whose restrictions are met in the same period as unrestricted revenue. The College follows the policy of reporting temporarily restricted contributions and temporarily restricted endowment income, for which stipulations are not met in the same period, in the statements of activities as increases in temporarily restricted net assets in the period received. Expenses are generally reported as decreases in unrestricted net assets. Expirations of donor-imposed stipulations that simultaneously increase one category of net assets and decrease another are reported as reclassifications between the applicable classes of net assets.

Cash and Cash Equivalents: The College considers all highly liquid investments with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents. The College maintains cash and cash equivalents with various financial institutions. At times, such cash and cash equivalents may be in excess of the FDIC and international insurance levels.

Accounts and Loans Receivable: Accounts receivable consists of student charges, employee advances and amounts owed from vendors. Payment is due immediately unless the student has been set up on a specific payment plan. Interest is assessed monthly when payments are past due. A reserve for student receivables is established when collection is considered questionable and accounts are written off when the College deems further collection efforts will not produce additional recoveries.

The loans receivable consist of student financial aid granted through the Perkins Student Loan program. The loans are guaranteed by the Federal government and bear a current interest rate of 5% and are payable over 10 years upon graduation.

Investments: Investments in marketable debt and equity securities are stated at fair value based upon quoted market prices; real estate investments from gifts are stated at fair value based upon appraisals; alternative and private equity securities are valued at estimated fair value at their net asset value per share as determined by the fund managers. Net unrealized and realized gains or losses are reflected in the statement of activities.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The College believes that the carrying amount of its alternative and private equity securities is a reasonable estimate of fair value as of June 30, 2010 and 2009. Because alternative investments are not readily marketable, the estimated value is subject to uncertainty and, therefore, may differ from the value that would have been used had a ready market for the investments existed and such differences could be material.

Current guidance requires that net appreciation on endowment fund investments, whose income is unrestricted as to use, be reported as unrestricted net assets unless such net appreciation has been permanently restricted by the donor or by law. Kentucky Revised Statutes do not require net appreciation on endowment funds to be permanently restricted unless so specified by the donor. Therefore, in the accompanying financial statements, market appreciation of unrestricted endowment funds is classified as a part of unrestricted net assets. In cases where the donor has placed temporary restrictions on the use of the income from endowed gifts, related net appreciation is subject to those restrictions and is reported as a part of temporarily restricted net assets until the restriction has been met.

Investment Management Policy of Endowment and Annuity Funds: The College follows the policy of pooling securities and other assets for investment of all nonsegregated endowment and annuity funds. The method used to account for principal and income transactions is the market value method utilizing a unit basis. This method, among other things, provides for (i) maintaining the identity of the individual participating funds; (ii) accounting for the principal of each fund separately; (iii) computing and accounting for the income of each fund separately so that all restrictions relating to it are observed; (iv) maintaining the equities of each of the funds on the basis of the market value of the pooled investments through the use of units; and (v) maintaining and distributing to a separate account all realized gains and losses on investment transactions. Earnings of unrestricted quasi endowment funds are available for use at the discretion of the governing board.

When losses on the investments of a donor-restricted endowment fund exceed the net appreciation classified in temporarily restricted net assets, the excess loss reduces unrestricted net assets. Gains that restore the fair value of the assets of the endowment fund to the fund's required level (historic dollar value) are classified as an increase to the same class of net assets that was previously reduced for the excess loss - unrestricted net assets. After the fair value of the assets of the endowment fund equals the required level, gains are again available for expenditure, and those gains that are restricted by the donor are classified as increases in temporarily restricted net assets. During the year ended June 30, 2010, $4,104,191 of net gains increased, and during the year ended June 30, 2009, $27,842,148 of net losses reduced, unrestricted net assets resulting in $31,388,252 and $35,492,443, respectively, of endowment funds remaining below their historic dollar value.

Investment income is reported in the statement of activities net of related investment management fees of $998,164 and $1,073,782 for 2010 and 2009, respectively.

Inventories: Inventories consist of supplies and are carried at the lower of cost (first-in, first-out) or market.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Split-Interest Agreements: The College's beneficial interest in charitable lead and remainder trusts, for which the College is not the trustee, are included in pledges receivable on the statements of financial position at fair value. Assets held in charitable remainder trusts, for which the College is trustee, are included in long-term investments on the statements of financial position at fair value. For the liabilities, the federal midterm rate applicable to each charitable remainder trust at its inception, or at the date the College adopted applicable accounting measurement standards, whichever is later, is used for every subsequent determination of the net present value of the College's remainder interest under that trust until the trust's maturity.

Property, Plant and Equipment: Property, plant and equipment is recorded at cost at the date of acquisition or fair value at the date of gift, if donated. Generally, expenditures of greater than $2,500 which increase values or extend useful lives of the respective assets are capitalized. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over the following estimated useful lives:

Buildings	20-100 years
Building improvements	10-20 years
Furniture and equipment	5-20 years
Library books	20 years

The College follows the policy of lifting the restrictions on contributions of cash or other assets received for the acquisition of long-lived assets when the long-lived assets are acquired. It is the College's policy not to fund depreciation.

When assets are sold or retired, the cost and any related depreciation is eliminated from the account and any resulting gain or loss is included in the statement of activities.

The College capitalizes interest in connection with the construction of capital assets. Actual costs incurred related to capital projects qualify for interest capitalization. Interest capitalization ceases when the construction of an asset is complete and available for use.

Funds Held in Trust by Others: Funds held in trust by others represent resources neither in the possession nor under the control of the College, but held and administered by an outside party, with the College deriving income from such funds. These investments are recorded at the fair value of the principal amount.

Advances from Federal Government for Student Loans: Funds provided by the United States Government under the Federal Perkins Loan program are loaned to qualified students and may be reloaned after collections. These funds are ultimately refundable to the government and, therefore, recorded as a liability in the accompanying financial statements.

Self-Insurance: The College is primarily self-insured for health insurance costs, with losses insured in excess of a maximum amount on both a per claim and annual aggregate claim amount. The self-insurance liability is based on claims filed and an estimate of claims incurred but not yet reported.

Deferred Revenue: Deferred revenue includes amounts received from tuition and fees prior to the end of the fiscal year but related to the subsequent reporting period. Deferred revenue of $190,716 and $241,037 for the years ended June 30, 2010 and 2009, respectively, is included with deposits and agency funds on the statement of financial position.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Bond Issuance Costs: Certain costs were incurred for the issuance of the Kentucky Refunding and Improvement Revenue Bonds described in Note 6. As the bonds consist of various components, the issuance costs have been allocated among those components based on comparative size. The bond issuance costs are being amortized using the effective interest method over the life of the bond component or the optional redemption date of June 1, 2017, whichever is earlier.

Use of Estimates: The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements: In June 2009, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) codified existing accounting standards. The FASB Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) is the source of authoritative U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (“GAAP”) recognized by the FASB and supersedes all existing non-SEC accounting and reporting standards. All ASC content carries the same level of authority and anything outside of the ASC is non-authoritative. The new ASC guidance was adopted by the College for the year ended June 30, 2010, which changed the way accounting standards are referred to in the financial statement disclosures.

Income Taxes: The College operates as a nonprofit corporation and is exempt from income taxes under Internal Revenue Code Section 501(c)(3).

Additionally, the College is in compliance with guidance issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) with respect to accounting for uncertainty in income taxes as of January 1, 2009. A tax position is recognized as a benefit only if it is “more likely than not” that the tax position would be sustained in a tax examination, with a tax examination being presumed to occur. The amount recognized is the largest amount of tax benefit that is greater than 50% likely of being realized on examination. For tax positions not meeting the “more likely than not” test, no tax benefit will be recorded. The adoption had no effect on the College’s financial statements.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments Other Than Investments: The fair values of financial instruments other than investments, which include cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, student fees and deposits, and accounts payable, are based on a variety of factors. In some cases, fair values represent quoted market prices for identical or comparable instruments. In other cases, fair values have been estimated based on assumptions about the amount and timing of estimated future cash flows and assumed discount rates reflecting varying degrees of risk. Accordingly, the fair values may not represent actual values that could have been realized at year-end or that will be realized in the future.

The carrying value of the College’s bonds approximates market value based on the bonds payable bearing the rate of interest commensurate to that of similar instruments and current rates.

Subsequent Events: Management has performed an analysis of the activities and transactions subsequent to June 30, 2010 to determine the need for any adjustments to and/or disclosures within the audited financial statements for the year ended June 30, 2010. Management has performed their analysis through November 8, 2010, the date the financial statements were issued.

Reclassifications: A review conducted during 2010 of certain temporarily restricted net assets identified an error in the classification of certain assets. This resulted in net reductions to temporarily restricted net assets and a net increase to unrestricted net assets of $1,321,660.

NOTE 2 – PLEDGES RECEIVABLE

Unconditional promises are included in the financial statements as pledges receivable and as revenue in the appropriate net asset category. Pledges to be received within one year are recorded at their fair market value, net of allowances. Pledges to be received in more than one year have been recorded at the net present value of the expected future cash flows, net of allowances. The net present value of unconditional promises made in 2010 and 2009 was calculated using a discount rate of 1.04% and 1.58%, respectively, which approximates the average yield rate at the time the pledges were made on U.S. Treasury securities with comparable maturity dates. Management estimates the net present value of charitable remainder trusts included in pledges receivable, for which the College is not the trustee, based on a representative published high-quality bond index (i.e., Moody's Aa), which was approximately 1.04% and 1.58% at June 30, 2010 and 2009, respectively.

The College receives intentions to give from potential donors throughout the year. However, the College does not record intentions to give in the financial statements until such time, if any, as the potential donor executes an unconditional promise to give or makes a cash donation to the College.

Unconditional promises at June 30, 2010 are expected to be realized in the following periods:

The College is committed to fund $25.9 million in future required capital calls relating to its investment in certain private equity securities. Such commitments are generally called over a period of years and contain fixed expiration dates or other termination clauses.

The College's long-term investments include stocks, bonds, government obligations, investments in funds that invest in derivative instruments, and other investment securities. Other notes receivable consist of life insurance contracts with certain officers of the College whereby the College will be fully reimbursed for amounts paid in addition to related earnings. Investment securities are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, market and credit. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities and the level of uncertainty related to changes in the value of investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in risks in the near term would result in material changes in the fair value of long-term investments and net assets of the College.

NOTE 4 – DERIVATIVE INSTRUMENTS

As noted below, the College has entered into certain interest rate swaps to receive market rate interest and pay fixed rate interest to various major financial institutions that lock in the College's interest rate paid on certain variable rate bonds. The variable interest on the bonds is hedged by these interest rate swaps. Net interest payments will be effectively fixed at the rates indicated during the period. The College intends to hold these interest rate swaps until maturity. These interest rate swaps are considered derivatives and are recognized on the statement of net assets at their fair value. Changes in the fair value of these derivatives are reported as non-operating revenue or expense on the statement of activities.

During 2008, the College entered into three interest rate swaps to receive market rate interest and pay fixed rate interest to a major financial institution that locked in the College's interest rate paid on a portion of its bonds. The interest rate swap agreements are for the purpose of reducing certain exposures to interest rate fluctuations. At June 30, 2010 and 2009, these interest rate swaps had a total notional amount of $23,850,000, and $24,525,000, respectively. Under these agreements, the College pays interest at rates between 4.335% and 5.229% and receives rates based on the SIFMA index and LIBOR index. These agreements expire at various dates between October 2012 and June 2037.

During 2009, the College entered into three other interest rate swaps to receive market rate interest and pay fixed rate interest to a major financial institution that locked in the College's interest rate paid on a portion of its bonds payable. At June 30, 2010 and 2009, these interest rate swaps had a total notional amount of $21,400,000. Under this agreement, the College pays interest at rates between 2.14% and 2.49%, and receives rates based on the SIFMA index. These agreements expire at various dates between December 2013 and 2018.

At June 30, 2010 and 2009, the fair value of these swap agreements reflected an obligation of the College of $3,679,719 and $1,666,141, respectively. This change in value is recognized as a nonoperating decrease in net assets.

The estimated cost to complete current construction projects is $3,500,000 at June 30, 2010.

The College follows the practice of capitalizing interest during construction on the capital projects paid with the proceeds of bond issues. Interest in the amount of $1,356,507 and $1,057,377 was capitalized during the years ended June 30, 2010 and 2009, respectively.

NOTE 6 – LONG-TERM DEBT (Continued)

In August 2007, the College issued $86,760,000 of County of Boyle, Kentucky College Refunding and Improvement Revenue Bond, Series 2007A, B and C. Proceeds were used to (i) refund the City of Danville, Kentucky Economic Development Revenue Bonds, Series 2002, in the outstanding principal and accrued interest amount of $220,331, (ii) refund the City of Danville, Kentucky Economic Development revenue Bonds, Series 2004, in the outstanding principal and accrued interest amount of $397,693, and to (iii) refund the Kentucky Economic Development Finance Authority Refunding and Improvement Revenue Bonds, Series 2002, in the outstanding principal and accrued interest amount of $39,225,930. The early extinguishment of the KEDFA Bonds resulted in a redemption loss of $196,102. At June 30, 2010, the remaining proceeds of $7,472,402 are classified as restricted cash for capital projects in the accompanying statement of financial position.

The College subsequently issued $42,655,000 of County of Boyle, Kentucky College Refunding and Improvement Revenue Bonds, Series 2008A and B. Proceeds were used to refund the aforementioned Series 2007B and C bonds in the outstanding principal amount of $42,225,000. The underlying uses of the 2008A and B bonds are the same as the refunded 2007B and C bonds.

The bond agreement contains certain financial covenants that require the College to maintain certain debt ratios, a certain liquidity ratio and certain other guidelines or limitations related to the College's indebtedness. At June 30, 2010, the College was in compliance with all requirements except the debt service coverage ratio. On November 8, 2010, the bond trustee, the bond insurer and the letter of credit bank agreed to waive compliance with the debt service coverage covenant with the execution of a Waiver and Covenant Modification Agreement. The Agreement requires the College to establish a Debt Service Reserve Fund, and modifies the debt service coverage ratio which brings the College into compliance with this covenant as of the effective date of the Agreement.

Some of the 2007A Bonds maturing on or after June 1, 2018 are subject to optional redemption prior to maturity at the direction of the College on or after June 1, 2017 at a redemption price equal to the principal amount of the bonds to be redeemed, together with accrued interest. The bonds were originally issued at a net discount of $378,620, which is being amortized by the effective interest method over the terms of each of the bonds or up to the optional redemption date of June 1, 2017, whichever is earlier.

Scheduled maturities of long-term debt at June 30, 2010 are as follows:

2011	$ 265,000
2012	265,000
2013	275,000
2014	280,000
2015	290,000

NOTE 8 – RETIREMENT PLANS

The College has retirement plans for the benefit of all eligible employees through contracts with the Teachers Insurance and Annuity Association of America. Contract premium costs are based on a specified percentage of each employee's annual salary and are funded as they accrue. Total cost to the College under these defined contribution plans was $1,566,743 and $1,536,032 for 2010 and 2009, respectively.

NOTE 9 – SELF-FUNDED HEALTH INSURANCE

The College maintains a self-funded health insurance plan for all full time employees and their eligible dependents. Funded amounts are based on claims processed and submitted for payment on a weekly basis by a third-party plan administrator. Stop loss liability insurance purchased by the College reimburses for individual claims beyond $45,000 and aggregate claims beyond $1,673,530.

Total medical insurance cost to the College under this plan was $768,938 and $1,066,872 for 2010 and 2009, respectively.

NOTE 10 – FAIR VALUE OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

In 2006, the FASB issued new guidance on fair value measurements of financial instruments. This guidance defines fair value as the price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability (an exit price) in the College's principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability in an orderly transaction between market participants on the measurement date.

NOTE 10 – FAIR VALUE OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS (Continued)

This guidance establishes a fair value hierarchy which requires an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value. The standard describes three levels of inputs that may be used to measure fair value:

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) for identical assets or liabilities in active markets that the entity has the ability to access as of the measurement date.

Level 2: Significant other observable inputs other than Level 1 prices such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities; quoted prices in markets that are not active; or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data.

Level 3: Significant unobservable inputs that reflect a reporting entity's own assumptions about the assumptions that market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability.

In many cases, a valuation technique used to measure fair value includes inputs from multiple levels of the fair value hierarchy. The lowest level of significant input determines the placement of the entire fair value measurement in the hierarchy.

The fair values of large cap equities, small cap equities, international equities, and government and corporate bonds are determined by obtaining quoted prices on nationally recognized securities exchanges (Level 1 inputs). Certain large cap equities and alternative equities are determined by quoted market prices of similar securities with similar due dates or matrix pricing, which is a mathematical technique widely used in the industry to value large cap and alternative private equities without relying exclusively on quoted prices for the specific securities, but rather by relying on the securities' relationship to other benchmark quoted securities (Level 2 inputs).

Alternative public equities and private equities have observable inputs and market activity that allow for pricing based on the underlying market prices of the items in the fund, adjusted information developed by management for historical and current performance of the underlying funds, liquidity and credit premiums required by a market participant and financial trend analysis with respect to the overall fund compared to benchmark performance ratios (Level 3 inputs).

The fair value of the beneficial interests in the perpetual trust assets (or any type of beneficial interest) is based on a valuation model that calculates the present value of estimated distributed income. The valuation model incorporates assumptions that market participants would use in estimating future distributed income. The College is able to compare the valuation model inputs and results to widely available published industry data for reasonableness, but because interests in perpetual trusts are not redeemable, they are classified as a level 3 input. Real estate and energy related holdings within the perpetual trust assets are recorded based on annual appraised values.

For other investments for which there is no active market, generally referred to as “alternative investments”, such as alternative public and private equities and beneficial interests in perpetual trusts, the fair values are initially based on valuations determined by the investment managers using Net Asset Values (“NAV”) as of their most recent statements, adjusted for cash receipts, cash disbursements, and other anticipated income or loss through June 30th. The NAVs of the investment funds are determined on the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with U.S. GAAP; in certain instances, secondary investments require reporting other than U.S. GAAP such as International Financial Reporting Standards or Tax Basis accounting, in which case the investment managers adjust values to more accurately comply with U.S. GAAP. The managers utilize standard valuation procedures and policies to assess the fair value of the underlying investment holdings to derive NAV. For holdings in marketable securities listed on national securities exchanges, the values represent the publicly traded values, and holdings in private securities are generally valued using the mark-to-market method, which attempts to apply a fair value standard by referring to meaningful third-party transactions, comparable public market valuations, appraisals and/or the income approach. Pursuant to U.S. GAAP, management has considered redemption restrictions to assess classification of fair value inputs. For alternative investments with redemption periods of 90 days or less, the assets are considered a Level 2 fair value measurement. Investments that are redeemable in greater than 90 days are considered Level 3 fair value measurements due to the inability to redeem the asset at NAV in the near term.

College management has done considerable independent review of valuations reported by investment managers and determined that NAV is a reasonable and prudent estimate of fair value. Alternative investments are not readily marketable and their estimated value is subject to uncertainty. Therefore, there may be a material difference between their estimated value and the value that would have been used had a readily determinable fair value for such investments existed.

Description of Alternative Investments Strategy and Liquidity:

As of June 30, 2010, the College’s alternative investments consist of private equity funds, alternative asset funds, and perpetual trusts. Additional disclosure relative to the underlying strategies for these types of investments is as follows:

Strategies for Private Equities:

These funds invest in private capital such as limited partnerships, securities of companies in both domestic and international markets, securities in companies undergoing financial distress, operating difficulties or restructuring through fund investments or co-investments. These investments are long-term in duration and may provide little if any current income.

NOTE 10 – FAIR VALUE OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS (Continued)

Strategies for Alternative Asset Funds:

These funds have broadly diversified strategies and are designed to target attractive risk-adjusted returns and lower volatility than most traditional asset classes. These strategies generally aim to have a low beta to equity, credit and interest rate markets, achieved through a highly diversified combination of allocations to hedge fund managers and customized vehicles.

Strategies for Perpetual Trusts:

These funds were established by the donors to provide perpetual income to the College. They are invested 60% equities, 40% fixed income on average, and can never be liquidated. Included in perpetual trusts are $1,198,705 in real estate and energy related assets.

A summary of the alternative investments by strategy, including restrictions on redemption and liquidity as of June 30, 2010, is presented as follows:

	Balance at June 30, 2010	Unfunded Commitments	Redemption Notice	Redemption Frequency
Private equity and real estate	$ 42,075,225	$ 25.9 million	N/A	Fund Dissolved
Alternative asset funds	$ 30,414,133	$ -	90-95 days	Quarterly and Semi-Annually
Perpetual trusts	$ 21,746,878	$ -	N/A	N/A

The investments in the private equity do not allow for withdrawals from the partnership until the partnership is dissolved, unless special approval is awarded by the general partner. In nearly all of the partnerships, there are special provisions that allow for the life of the partnership to be extended beyond the original dissolution date. The schedule below lists the remaining numbers of years until the partnerships are estimated to be dissolved without extension, allowing the College to withdraw its investment:

	1 – 5 Years	6 – 10 Years	> 10 Years	Total

Interpretation of UMIFA: The Board of Trustees of Centre College has interpreted the Uniform Management of Institutional Funds Act ("UMIFA") as requiring the preservation of the fair value of the original gift as of the gift date of the donor-restricted endowment funds absent explicit donor stipulations to the contrary.

As a result of this interpretation, the College classifies as permanently restricted net assets (a) the original value of gifts donated to the permanent endowment, (b) the original value of subsequent gifts to the permanent endowment, and (c) accumulations to the permanent endowment made in accordance with the direction of the applicable donor gift instrument at the time the accumulation is added to the fund.

UPMIFA was enacted in Kentucky subsequent to year-end and is effective as of July 15, 2010. Therefore, the College will report under UPMIFA in fiscal year 2011. At the date of adoption, the College has determined that approximately $3,500,000 of unrestricted net assets will be reclassified as temporarily restricted net assets.

Return Objectives and Risk Parameters: The primary objective of the investments for the Endowment Fund is to adequately support Centre College's current financial needs while preserving assets for future generations by providing long-term growth of income and principal.

Strategies Employed for Achieving Objectives: The objective shall be accomplished utilizing a diversified strategy of public and private equities, including traditional long-only public equity portfolios as well as low-leverage alternative public equity strategies, and fixed income securities in a mix which is conducive to participation in rising markets while allowing for adequate protection in falling markets.

Spending Policy and How the Investment Objectives Relate to Spending Policy: The College uses the "total return" approach for pooled investments of endowment and similar funds. The spending policy of the Board is a 5% payout rate based on a twelve quarter moving average and is determined annually in conjunction with budget authorization. However, during 2010 and 2009, the Board authorized spending above the 5% payout rate which approximated 5.34% and 5.57%, respectively. Using the spending formula and additional payout authorizations, approximately $9,644,000 and $10,978,000 of total return was appropriated from the pooled endowment and similar funds for operating purposes in 2010 and 2009, respectively.

The Board of Trustees always has the authority to revert the designation of unrestricted net assets and to use them for other purposes in connection with the charter of Centre College and governing laws, regulations and Board policies. In 2010 and 2009, the Board approved $4.98 and $7.94 million, respectively, of the total authorized payout to be funded from quasi endowment funds to supplement spending for endowments that were underwater. These funds will be repaid to the quasi endowment funds as the endowment emerges from its underwater state.

Funds with Deficiencies: From time to time, the fair value of assets associated with individual donor restricted endowment funds may fall below the level that the donor or UMIFA requires the College to retain as a fund of perpetual duration, resulting in "underwater endowments". Deficiencies of this nature that are in excess of related temporarily restricted amounts are reported in unrestricted net assets. Underwater endowments totaled $31.4 million and $35.5 million at June 30, 2010 and 2009, respectively.
