March 6, 2020 - Campuswide email

Dear Students, Faculty, and Staff,

Earlier this afternoon, the first case of coronavirus (COVID-19) was reported in Kentucky and Gov. Andy Beshear has declared a state of emergency in order to access recently approved federal funds, should they be required.

Please be assured that our Coronavirus Task Force has been hard at work to establish a plan to address such a situation, and we will be monitoring developments closely this weekend. Dean Ellen Goldey has already communicated to the faculty the elements of some of the protocols being put in place should the virus spread.

Updates will be provided as necessary. In the meantime, please be extra vigilant in exercising every precaution possible, as outlined in our Coronavirus Information Center (available HERE).

I repeat again that we are all in this together, and I am grateful to everyone for the care and compassion with which we treat one another as members of the Centre community.

My best,

John – P. Roush
